UniCredit Bank GmbH - UC Cash Flow Based Benchmark Family

Ref.	Clause	Description
BMR Article 27(1)(a)	The Benchmark Statement shall clearly and unambiguously define the market or economic reality measured by the benchmark and the circumstances in which such measurement may become unreliable.	The UC Cash Flow Based Benchmark Family is designed to represent the performance of a hypothetical portfolio of a hypothetical investor allocating to closed-ended investment funds that apply a capital commitment/capital call/distribution-model. The UC Cash Flow Based Benchmark Family are usually not subject to specific criteria of the market or economic reality(e.g. geographical boundaries, style, asset class, etc.). If any specific criteria apply to a benchmark, such specific criteria are stipulated in the respective Index Description.
BMR Article 27(1)(b)	The Benchmark Statement shall lay down technical specifications that: (I) clearly and unambiguously identify the elements of the calculation of the benchmark in relation to which discretion may be exercised, (II) the criteria applicable to the exercise of such discretion, (III) the position of the persons that can exercise discretion, (IV) and how such discretion may be subsequently evaluated.	The Index Descriptions are written with the intent of removing the need for judgement or exercising discretion in the calculation of the benchmark. Where there may be a need to take an action that is not prescribed in the respective Index Description, the Index Committee will develop an approach with the goal of remaining consistent with the objectives of the benchmark and ensuring timely calculation and distribution.
BMR Article 27(1)(c)	The Benchmark Statement shall provide notice of the possibility that factors, including external factors beyond the control of the administrator, may necessitate changes to, or the cessation of, the benchmark.	UniCredit Bank GmbH hereby provides notice that it might be possible that factors, including external factors beyond UniCredit Bank GmbH's control, may necessitate changes to, or the cessation of, the benchmark.
BMR Article 27(1)(d)	The Benchmark Statement shall advise users that changes to, or the cessation of, the benchmark may have an impact upon the financial contracts and financial instruments that reference the benchmark or the measurement of the performance of investment funds.	Possible changes to, or the cessation of, a benchmark may have an impact upon the financial contracts and financial instruments that reference the benchmark.
BMR Article 27(2)(a)	The Benchmark Statement shall contain the definitions for all key terms relating to the benchmark.	The definitions of all key terms can be found in the "Glossary of Technical Terms used in Index Descriptions for UniCredit Benchmarks" which can be found at www.onemarkets.de .
BMR Article 27(2)(b)	The Benchmark Statement shall contain the rationale for adopting the (I) benchmark methodology and (II) procedures for the review and approval of the methodology.	Re. (I): The methodology of the benchmarks of the UC Cash Flow Based Benchmark Family reflects the market and economic reality as set out above (Ref. BMR Article 27(1)(a)). The benchmarks were adopted to meet the market demand of investors for products linked to the benchmarks in order to gain exposure to such market or economic reality. Re. (II): The review of the benchmarks of the UC Cash Flow Based Benchmark Family follows data sources may be insufficient, inaccurate or unreliable and the potential limitations of the benchmark in such periods.	and the potential limitations of the benchmark in such periods are specified in the adjustment and market disruption paragraphs of the respective Index Description.

BMR Article 27(2)(f)	The Benchmark Statement shall contain the procedures for dealing with errors in input data or in the determination of the benchmark, including when a re-determination of the benchmark is required.	Procedures for dealing with errors in input data or in the determination of the benchmark, including provisions for rectifying the determination of the benchmark, are outlined in an internal directive document. Errors in the benchmark determination shall be corrected in accordance with the initial intention and considering the interest of the parties.
BMR Article 27(2)(g)	The Benchmark Statement shall contain the identification of potential limitations of the benchmark, including its operation in illiquid or fragmented markets and the possible concentration of inputs.	The potential limitations of the benchmarks of the UC Cash Flow Based Benchmark Family include circumstances where a significant proportion of the net asset values / prices of the constituents of the benchmarks are unavailable or disrupted. The procedures which govern the determination or possible suspension of the benchmark can be found in the market disruption paragraphs of the respective Index Description.
BMR Article 28(1)	An administrator shall publish, together with the benchmark statement referred to in Article 27, a procedure concerning the actions to be taken by the administrator in the event of changes to or the cessation of a benchmark which may be used in the Union in accordance with Article 29(1). The procedure may be drafted, where applicable, for families of benchmarks and shall be updated and published whenever a material change occurs.	If the regular or any additional review of a benchmark of the UC Cash Flow Based Benchmark Family as set out in the operational regulation of the Index Committee results (see description regarding BMR Article 27(2)(b)) in a consideration of changes to or the cessation of the benchmark, a respective impact study is carried out. The impact of a potential change to or the cessation of the considered benchmark to both the benchmark and known users is considered. The Index Committee aims to provide a consultation period on the proposals and or current benchmark methodology for the benchmark users before a change decision is made. The Index Committee aims to make a notice of the change at least one month prior to a change. This period maybe shortened if market events necessitate an immediate change. Where a benchmark is designed for a single end user, changes may be made based on a mutual agreement with the user.
RTS Article 1(1)(a)	The Benchmark Statement shall state the date of publication of the statement and, where applicable, the date of its last update.	See page 1 for the date of the original document and this document version.
RTS Article 1(1)(b)	The Benchmark Statement shall state where available, the international securities identification number (ISIN) of the benchmark or benchmarks; alternatively, for a family of benchmarks, the statement may provide details of where the ISINs are publicly accessible free of charge.
